SOLD $12,000 WORTH OF GOODS ON CREDIT TO A PAIR OF ROGUES.

The Purchasers Had the Goods Sent to Fine Houses They Didn't Live At and Waited on the Street for Them-Under Arrest, but They May Escape Jail on a Technicality.

Ignatz Kornfeldt of 1788 Madison avenue and Francis, alias Luke, Gallagher of 333 West Fifty-ninth street were in the Jefferson Market police court yesterday for examination tomorrow morning on a charge of grand larceny. Within the last fortnight, it is charged, they $12,000 from merchants in the Madison Square rogues' gallery and they both have been in charges brought by the City Club to have Dis- English and is postmarked Hydrabassend, trict Attorney Asa Bird Gardiner removed from office.

The complainant against the pair yesterday was R. J. Horner, the furniture dealer of West Twenty-third street, but many others are likely to come forward now that they are in custody. Mr. Horner told Magistrate Hogan that the without delay to a downtown engraver's to be marked with suitable monograms. The salesan acquiesced, and the silverware was delivered to the engraver. He afterward sent it, under instructions, as he alleged, to the Lincoln Storage Warehouse at Sixth avenue and Forty

When he returned a few days ago Mr. Horner said the sale was reported to him and he was informed that nothing had been heard of the wo men who had bought the silverware. He immediately communicated with Mr. Smith mmediately communicated with Mr. Smith and Mr. Weil. They responded that they knew Kornfeldt and Gallagher, but that they would not vouch for their business transactions. He then hurried to Capt. McClusky, to whom he related the circumstances of the purchase. Capt. McClusky detailed Detectives Kennedy and Rein on the case.

Capt. McClusky detailed Detectives Kennedy and Rein on the case.

They learned that Kornfeldt had made purchases of furniture and silverware all over the city. He had goue to the store of G E Flint in Twenty-third street and ordered $2,300 worth of furniture to be delivered at 44 West Ninety-second street, saying that he had just bought the house and wished to furnish it elaborately. From the Gorham Manufacturing Company he had purchased $1,753 worth of silverware, whichhe ordered delivered at the Ninety-second street house. From Hertz Brothers, a Broadway furniture house, he had purchased $1,550 worth of furniture and had ordered it to be sent to 108 West Ninety-fourth street, saying that he had just bought that house. From Hoskins & Sewell of Fifteenth street, he had ordered $1.608 worth of furniture: from I Bunner of 176 Broadway, $250 worth of lewelry; from William McDonald, a jeweler of Twenty-third street, $221.75 worth of diamonds had been ordered. He had purchased from C Dorflinger of 915 Broadway several hundred dellars worth of jewelry. When the goods were sent to private houses, the detectives learned, Gallagher would wait in the street with a wagon. When the goods were delivered he would walk up to the driver say that they had been left at the wrong address and take them himself. Rein and Kenny learned that Kornfeldt was coming to a store in West Twenty-third street, found Kornfeldt there, just before noon, and arrested him. They took him to Headquarters for examination. He was brought before Capt. McClusky and to him, the captain says, confessed He told them that he was in Gallagher's employ at $10 a week and commissions and said he was to meet Gallagher yesterday morning at 7 o'clock at Ninth avenue and Flity-ninth street. Detective Kenny nearly missed his breakfast hurrying to keep Kornfeldt's appointment for him. At 7 o'clock hesaw Gallagher come to the corner and stepped up to him.

"It think you ha! better come to Headquarters with ma, said the detective. Gallagher offered no procest.

Magdistrate Hogau told Mr. Horner in court researciday that the merchants of New York should make credit customers show written recommendations before goods were delivered to them. The Legislature had passed a law to protect merchants, the Magistrate said, but store keepers refused to take the precaution the law enjoined on them.

Louislana May Cost a Life. known dentiat of this city, was shot and mortally wounded in a duel this morning in an empty house at the corner of Customhouse and Rampart streets, by Dr. Armand Mary, another dentist. The duel was the result of the passage by the Legislature at its late session of a bill regulating the practice of dentistry and providing for the examination and registry of all dentists. Dr. Sarrazin was the leader of cone faction who call themselves regular dentists, while Dr. Mary was the leader of the alleged conspirators are brought to Savannah for trial before the United States to the late of the court may lead to more interesting developments of the alleged conspirators are brought to Savannah for trial before the United States BLEANS AUG 25 -I Sprrag of one faction who call themselves regular dentists, while Dr. Mary was the leader of the advertising dentists who operate large dental companies with big staffs.

The fight over the bill was bitter and when Dr. Mary appeared before the Legislature to argue against it he was met with a petition circulated by Dr. Sarrazin and other regulars declaring that Dr. Mary had no standing among reputable dentists. Both factions have since been trying to get control of the Dental Commission created by this law and this has intensified the bitterness. Drs. Sarrazin and Mary met this morning on a street car, when they agreed to settle their difficulty. They went into an unoccupied house on Rampart street. Mary tried to strike Sarrazin with his cane, but Sarrazin wested it from him and struck him twice over the arm. Mary then drew a revolver and fired at close range, one ball striking Sarrazin near the nose. It is feared that it entered the brain. The second shot plerced the chest. ### RETURNING AMERICANS.

Many Well-Known Persons on the New York Which Got in Yesterday.

Aboard the American liner New York, which arrived yesterday from Southampton and Cherbourg, were George F. Baldwin, who helped to organize the Steel Wire Trust; Frank J. Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Widener, P. A. B. Widener and Harry Elkins Widener, George A. Armour, Mrs. Leslie Carter and William Nicholson, the English artist.

Mr. Baldwin has completed a tour of the world with his wife and son. He was in Canton, China, in November, and got the impression from conversation with the best class of Chinamen there that they desired to cut off their queues, adopt the clothing of Western folk and the ideas of Western civilization. Only the ignorant element was opposed to foreign influences. Mr. Baldwin said he had noted that the Russians only were prepared for trouble. with the Chinese.

The artist Nicholson comes to study American types, including, it is said, Bryan, Mark Hanna and Gov. Roosevelt.

TOWN FULL OF THIN PEOPLE. Neodesba, Kan., Able to Produce the Leanest

Specimens of Mankind in This Country. TOPERA, Kan., Aug. 25 -In its issue to-day the Neodesha Sun asserts a distinction for that town of 1,500 inhabitants enjoyed by no other community in the United States. The Sun says that a majority of the people are thin in flesh, and that many of the men and women weigh less than 100 pounds each. The Sun says that if all the people in Neodesha were stripped and stood up in line and dressed only in Indian attire, they would make a picture squal to the representations of starving people in India. Physicians say that the great bodies of oil and natural gas under the town are nature's anti-fat remedy.

No More Poker in the Bohemian Club. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25 .- The game of poker is officially proscribed in the Bohemian Club. notice has been issued that members cannot A notice has been issued that members cannot indulge in it without danger of expulsion. The reason for this arbitrary decree is not made public, but it is understood that the action is due to the fact that Edwin Stevens, the actor, who is now on his way to New York to fill an engagement, had a violent quarrel recently with a Bohemian over a poker game. Stevens objected to the way the Bohemian was playing the game and it is said the lie was exchanged and a scrap averted narrowly. When the facts came before the directors they decided to rule outpoker.

PRINCE ADVANT OUT OF JAIL. Shows Letters and Gives an Interview to Prove

That He's Not an Impostor. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 25 .- A. Advani, who says he is a Hindoo Prince, was released from the New Haven county jail this afternoon, where he had been serving out a sentence of several months for presenting a bogus check to pay a hotel bill in this city. Prince Advant immediately left the city, presumably for New York. Before going away he told the jail officials that he had been deeply wronged and that he would return to New Haven next Tuesday with $25,000 Within the last fortnight, it is charged, they in his pocket to show the New Haven people have stolen merchandise valued at more than this statements about having plenty of money were true. That Advani has friends district. The pictures of both men are in the and relatives in India is proved by letters he received prior to his discharge from jail. One all. SIDE SUIT IN THE CARTER PRAUDS

Gaynors, Brings Action for Money Due. SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 25.—An unexpected side issue has developed to the Carter courtmartial and the indictment for conspiracy against B. D. Greene and the Gaynors in the United States Court. M. A. Connolly, who was one of those indicted by the United States Grand Jury, but who has been in Savannah since the indictment was found, ready for a trial, is the present mover in this latest phase of the case, and he stands not as a defendant but as a plaintiff. He has attached the property in Savannah of former Capt. Oberlin M Carter and the Atlantic Contracting Company to recover a large amount of money that he Naughtin and got the attachments. It is asserted that Carter is indebted to Connoily in the sum of $5,498 for services rendered and an attachment was issued for that amount against the stock of the Propeler Towboat Company held in his name. The property of the Atlantic Contracting Company attached is for the recovery of $9,545 claimed by Connoily as due him.

The filing of these attachments has consected.

STOLE RAILROAD TICKETS.

Two Small Boys Robbed a Station Agent and Gave Away Their Plunder.

Twelve-year-old Johnny Ewald of 210 East 122d street, and George McMallon, 11 years old, of 211 East 122d street, were held by Magistrate Zeller in the Harlem police court on the charge of stealing rairoad tickets valued at $1,200 from the 125th street station of the New York Central

The ticket office of the station is on the ground The ticket office of the station is on the ground floor of the building. When Ticket Agent Teo Eyek settled his day's receipts on Friday, many bundles of tickets were missing and could not be accounted for. The windows leading to the street are covered with a heavy wire screen. Yesterday morning two boys went up to the ticket window and, presenting two tickets for Albany, asked if they were good. The agent in charge saw that the tickets were not stamped and knowing that they must have been stolen detained the boys until a policeman was called. After being threatened with arrest the youngsters said that they had bought the rickets for 25 cents from Ewald and McMallon, their playmates.

when Detectives Hawkins and Baker of the When Detectives Hawkins and Haker of the Fast 128th street station arrested the two boys at their homes, $1,000 worth of tickets were recovered. The detectives learned that the boys had distributed $200 worth among their playmates and had sold more to whoever would buy them. Pending examination the boys were sent to the Gerry society's rooms.

She has a total capacity of 2,000 tons.

The Weather.

The storm which was forming on Friday over South Dakota passed northward over Lake Superior into Canada yesterday, leaving a moderate depression stretching from Texas to the Great Lakes without any definite movement. The pressure was becoming high on the south Atlantic coast.

Clearing weather set in throughout the country save for scattered showers and thunderstorms in Arkansas, Missouri, Michigan, Florida and Georgia In the country generally east of the Mississippi it was warmer; especially in the Middle Atlantic and New England States.

In this city the morning opened cloudy, but by 9 A. M. it began to clear; wind light to fresh southwesterly. Maximum temperature, 88 degrees at 3 P. M.; average humidity, 76 per cent; barometer corrected to read to sea level at 8 A. M., 30.03, 3 P. M.,

SLEPT IN A POULTRY "COOLER." The Intexicated McGinnis Would Have Been Frozen Stiff if He Hadn't Been Found.

John McGinnis, a hod-carrier, of 769 Colum bus avenue started out yesterday to visit some friends on the west side of town near Fort Washington. On his way uptown he had s swim in the Hudson River and afterward several drinks. How he got into the yard of Conlin Bros.' poultry depot at 130th street and Twelfth avenue no one knows, but somehow he got into a large "cooler" there, in which is kept the dressed poultry, and went to sleep.

Supt. William Rowan had occasion to visit the "cooler" soon afterward. He stumbled over McGinnis, who in another hour or two would have been frozen stiff. The superintendent ordered him to get out and when he didn't go put him out. But McGinnis was just drunk enough to appreciate the cold air. He said he was going back to the "cooler," and to keep him out the hose was turned on him. In revenge he picked up a stone and threw it through the window.
